RHETORICAL EXERCISES.

The School is divided into two sections, and each section under a separate teacher, spends forty-five minutes of each day after chapel service, in impromptu composition and other rhetorical exercises, besides the usual compositions once in two weeks.

Books and stationery will be furnished for cash at Cincinnati prices.

LOCATION.

The Institute is in the centre of the State, midway between Columbus and Zanesville, in one of the most beautiful and healthy regions of the West. The country is beautifully diversified with hill and valley. The town is in a valley surrounded by hills, presenting one of the loveliest pictures in nature. It is three miles from Union Station, and six miles from Newark.

BUILDINGS.

The buildings are sufficient to accommodate the family of the President the Teachers, and about fifty boarding pupils, with all necessary recitation library, apparatus, music and painting rooms. They are surrounded by ample and beautiful grounds, and furnish a delightful home for the inmates of the School.

The buildings will probably be enlarged the coming season, to meet the pressing demand for more room.

LIBRARY.

A library has been already established, to which accessions are constantly made. By an arrangement with the Board of the University, the pupils of the Institute can have access to their valuable Libraries.

APPARATUS.

The Institute is provided with apparatus for illustrating the most important facts in Natural Science, and new articles will be added to meet the necessities of the classes.

MUSICAL DEPARTMENT.

The musical Department is furnished with one of Mason & Hamlin's large Cabinet Organs, and with excellent Pianos.

PAINTING DEPARTMENT.

A large and valuable stock of new patterns has just been procured for this department, with all needed facilities for those who wish to perfect themselves in this branch of the Fine Arts.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are two flourishing Societies, the Euterpean and Philomathean, which meet Friday evening of each week, and are doing much to stimulate and cultivate a literary spirit. They each have a pleasant hall neatly and tastefully furnished, also libraries to which accessions are constantly being made.

ADMISSION.

Pupils will be received at any time, and assigned places in classes for which they are prepared. It is, however, very desirable that they should enter at the beginning of the term, and continue to the end. A few days' board and tuition are not to be compared with the derangement of classes, or the unsuccessful pursuit of studies, under the disadvantage of having passed superficially over elementary principles.

DIPLOMAS.

Will be awarded to such as have completed the regular course, and also to such as complete the English course, each indicating the course pursued.

Graduates will be required to have a standing of at least eighty per cent., in the studies of the courses, and a good moral character.

All classes will be examined upon every study before laying it down. Examinations will occur at the close of each term. To all of these the public are cordially invited.

GOVERNMENT.

It is the decided purpose of the Faculty to make good scholars and practical women. It is intended to make the pupils feel that they have a reputation to preserve, and characters to make; and the government will be in keeping with the dictates of common sense and christian principles. No pains will be spared to make the pupils happy and comfortable, and such a course will be pursued as will tend to secure cheerful and honest obedience from all.

Teachers and pupils sit at the same table, worship around the same altar, and mingle in friendly intercourse during the hours of recess from school duties. In all their intercourse with the members of the School and family, the teachers aim by direct instruction, and personal counsel, to enforce upon the conscience and heart, the doctrines and pure precepts of the Scriptures, as the rule of life, and the only safe guide to happiness.

Thorough preparation for every lesson, strict observance of study hours, promptness at recitations and at Chapel, and regular attendance at church on the Sabbath, will be required of all.

GENERAL REGULATONS.

1. No pupil will be received, except by special arrangement, at the time of entering, for less than a term, or the remainder of the term in which she enters, and no deduction will be made for absence except from protracted sickness, in which case the loss will be shared equally with the patron.

2. Students from abroad will be expected to board in the Seminary, unless special arrangements are made with the President. Many evils are liable to arise from the choice of surroundings by the pupil, or by parents who are strangers to the influences to which the pupil will be subjected. The President must have the right to determine so important a matter.

3. Our rooms are arranged in suites: one sitting room and two bed rooms, to be occupied by four young ladies. Pupils are expected to keep their own rooms in order, and are held responsible for damage to room or furniture.

4. It is very desirable that pupils should be provided with all needful clothing for the term, to prevent interruption of study. It is specially desired that the dress of the students shall be simple and inexpensive. Simplicity saves time, and thought, and money, which to the scholar are precious for higher uses. Therefore, we request that the outfit be plain but complete, so as to avoid the necessity of frequent purchases during term time. All articles of clothing and bedding must be distinctly marked with the owner's name in full.

5. Each young lady must furnish her own napkins, napkin ring and towels; one pair of sheets, one pair of pillow-cases, a comforter and blankets, so that two room mates may together furnish all needful bed clothing. Also, an umbrella, thick shoes, and over-shoes. The occupants of each room are expected to furnish their own coal oil lamp.

6. Parents are earnestly requested not to send boxes of cake and sweetmeats to their daughters, as they are almost always eaten just before retiring and followed by sickness, and serious interruption in study. Parents are also requested not to furnish their daughters with too much spending money A small amount deposited with the President, to be given out at his discretion, will be preferable.

7. Pupils are not allowed to make or receive visits on the Sabbath. The parlor is open for callers on Saturday afternoon from 3 till 5 o'clock. Visiters are requested to refrain from calling, except at the designated hours.—Persons from a distance calling upon pupils, will please send their names and requests to the President.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.
